

THERAPY MATTERS

A WORKSHOP SERIES WITH LYNN PRESTON

In this once-a-month series, we will delve into eight pivotal dimensions of generative therapeutic process. These workshops are an interweaving of theoretical exploration and experiential demonstrations. They are designed to be accessible and challenging to both beginning and seasoned clinicians.

Working With Conflict In Psychotherapy

Wednesday, April 30th, 7:30-9:30pm

One of the greatest psychotherapy challenges we deal with everyday in our sessions is that of finding creative and satisfying ways of working with conflict, both within us and between us. We want to approach conflictual experience in ways that enrich, carry forward and illuminate the issues we encounter.

After a brief talk about how Gendlin's philosophy approaches conflict, we will watch and discuss a demonstration video of a session in which these points are illustrated.

Place: 100 W. Houston Street, between LaGuardia & Thompson Streets
